

Next Steps Program

Child's 1st Birthday - Child's 2nd Birthday

1. The mother has successfully completed the Bella House residential program. She is now ready to apply for our new Next Steps apartment extension program.
2. She moves into an apartment and starts to utilize everything she has learned about managing living expenses on her own.
3. The case manager continues to work with the mother to address any setbacks as she grows in independence. She is excited to have her own living space.
4. After showing that she is able to support herself and her baby financially and can afford gas and car insurance, she seeks a car of her own. She will be able to save time by not having to take public transportation. A reliable car changes everything and allows her to spend more time with her baby.
5. She continues to receive support and community from Bella House and other mothers in our outreach program.
6. Once her child is two, the Bella House mother has real-world experience providing for herself and her child. She knows how to manage living and transportation expenses as well as maintaining a stable job.
